Invitation

Dear Colleagues,

I extend my most sincere welcome to all attendees of 5th World Congress of Minimally Invasive Spine Surgery and Techniques at International Convention Center Jeju in Jeju Island, Korea from June, 1st to 4th, 2016.

5th WCMISST is cooperated with 15th Symposium of Korean Minimally Invasive Spine Surgery (KOMISS) and 5th Asian Congress of Minimally Invasive Spine Surgery (ACMISS).

As in the past, 5th WCMISST will continue developing MIS techniques and technologies and enhance strong relationships of colleagues under international MISS society.

I hope it will give you a chance to interact with other doctors from different countries, share your great ideas with them and broaden your knowledge on endoscopic spine procedures by various program such as cadaver workshop, live surgery and hands on workshop, etc.

You will also be able to have the cutting edge knowledge and new trends of any MISS including various new endoscopic techniques, epiduroscopic techniques, robotic surgery, 3D printing technique & navigation.

For the successful meeting, we will invite all the representative MISS doctors in the world!

Your passion for learning new knowledge will make big difference in our spine filed and in our world.

Yours Sincerely,

Gun Choi, MD, PhD
President & Chairman
WCMISST 2016 Organizing Committee

About Jeju Island

Jeju Island is well known for its abundance of scenic natural wonders and cobalt blue sea. The island was designated as geoparks by UNESCO and is the world's first recipient of UNESCO's triple crowns in the fields of nature and science – Biosphere Reserve (2002), World Natural Heritage (2007) and World Geoparks (2010). So, Jeju Island is becoming the only place to hold both UNESCO's triple crowns and New 7 wonders statuses.

In October, 2010, Jeju was designated part of the UNESCO Global Geoparks Network

Hallasan Mountain, Manjanggul Lava Tube, Seongsan Sunrise Peak, Seogwipo Formation, Cheonjiyeon Waterfall, Columnar joints at Jungmun Daepo Coast, Sanbangsan Lava Dome, Yongmeori Tuff Ring, Suwolbong Tuff Ring, Udo island, Biyangdo, Seonheul Gotjawal (Dongbaek dongsan)

>> a status that was retained after reassessment in September, 2014.

Jeju was designated a UNESCO World Natural Heritage Site as

Jeju Volcanic Island and Lava Tube Districts (Hallasan Mountain Natural Reserve, Seongsan Sunrise Peak, Geomun Oreum Lava Tube System)

>> In June, 2007

Jeju was designated a UNESCO Biosphere Reserve area including

Hallasan National Park, Young Stream, Hyodon Stream, Moon Island, Beom Island, Seop Island

>> In December, 2002

Transportation

One of the many reasons that Jeju is the ideal International city is its geographic position at the center of Northeast Asia. Jeju has direct flights to more than 26 cities in four countries as well as inbound domestic flights to and from 13 cities with around 220 flights connecting Gimpo and Jeju every day.

Accessibility and Transportation

Increased convenience for participants from about 180 countries including China with no-visa entry (maximum 30 days of stay)

- Jeju International Airport that offers multiple international and domestic flights
- Road that prides excellent view while driving and convenient public transportation

Flight Information (Domestic Flight)

Via a third country

- Direct entry to Jeju from a hub airport in Japan or China
- About 60% of the visitors from the continents of America and Europe visit Jeju via a third country due to no-visa entry and convenience to tour

Via Incheon and Gimpo International Airport

- There are connecting domestic flights to Jeju at Gimpo International Airport. Directly go to Gimpo or use the airport limousine bus or airport railroad from Incheon International Airport
